Dear Dr. Agusdin Agusdin,

You will be glad to know that the production of the book The Emerald Handbook of Entrepreneurship in Tourism, Travel and Hospitality is in good progress. However, to continue the production and meet the publication date, we request you to urgently return your feedback/corrections.

Since we have not received your corrections by the said date, may I kindly request you to please return your corrections latest by April 3, 2018, so as to keep the book in line to meet the publication date.

We look forward to hearing from you.

Thank you, in advance, for your co-operation.

Sincerely,

Kousalya

Dear Agusdin,

I would like to inform you that I went through the final draft you had sent me.

I believe that this a better version; however there is a lot of room for improvement.

The numbering of the chapter has changed, is 22 now.

I have allowed myself to make some changes and improvements, mainly in terms of editing of the content.

I have the feeling that you didn't use at all the library resources I had sent you (the 2 chapters of Caroline Couret).

I strongly believe that you have to go through, improve and finalize it.

- Check out the changes and improvements I made
- Address some issues and questions (repeats, etc.). See my comments.
- The whole text requires English language editing and proof reading by an English native person.
- Get right the referencing style.
- Add a section on collaboration of business (not destinations) at local level to offer services and experiences in the field of creative tourism.

Dear Agusdin,

I am fine, thank you. I really enjoyed my holidays. However, they seem to be always short; I want to go back and spend one more month (like a second half in a football game...)

Many thanks for sending the initial version of your chapter on time. I believe that you are on a very good track, following and complying with the book's general rationale, approach and aims.

You may find some comments on the file you sent me. Furthermore, let me make 2 suggestions in order to improve the content and quality of your chapter:

- (1) Case study 24.1: It is related more to food production (yes, with local recipe and flavour). I think you could find a better example / case study that will be more suitable and fully related to creative industries. You may identify some examples and best practices at <http://www.creativetourismnetwork.org>
- (2) You may mention two more issues: the offering (experiences) and the role of collaboration. Please find attached the following chapters (by Caroline Couret, CEO of The Creative Tourism Network); they might be of your interest
 - Couret, C. (2016). "Managing experiences within the field of creative tourism: Best practices and guidelines". In: Sotiriadis, M and Gursoy, D. (Eds.), The Handbook of Managing and Marketing Tourism Experiences (pp. 235-259). Bingley, UK: Emerald Publishing. ISBN: 9781786352903.
 - Couret, C. (2015). "Collaboration and partnerships in practice: The Creative Tourism Network". In: Gursoy, D., Saayman, M., and Sotiriadis, M (Eds.), Collaboration In Tourism Businesses and Destinations: A Handbook (pp. 191-203). Bingley, UK: Emerald Publishing. ISBN: 9781783508112

Finally, I think the manuscript requires a good editing / proof reading.

Remaining at your disposal for any clarification and assistance

Hi Marios

Thank you for your invitation to contribute to your new edited volume Handbook of Entrepreneurship in Tourism, Travel and Hospitality: Skills for Successful Ventures.

I am unable to assist personally, but may I suggest that you contact Dr Agusdin, Faculty of Economics, and Business, Management Dept, University of Mataram, Lombok Nusa Tenggara Barat Indonesia. He is a member of the Sustainable Tourism Study group and his focus area is entrepreneurship and innovation.

Email: dragusdin@gmail.com

Best regards

Fleur
