Dear Kamal and all:

I would like to thank you for submitting your manuscript entitled "COMMODIFICATION OF ENGLISH AND ENGLISH-LIKE STRUCTURES IN SHOP NAMES IN LOMBOK ISLAND, INDONESIA" to Multilingua: Journal of Cross-Cultural and Interlanguage Communication (MULTI). Your manuscript has been reviewed, and it is a pleasure to accept it for publication in MULTI.

Thank you so much for your careful reviews and your responsiveness throughout this process. The paper has been greatly improved and I am sure that our readers will appreciate it. I'd also like to add my congratulations - well done on getting published in Multilingua :-)

The MULTI production office will contact you for proofreading in the near future. Your article will be published ahead of print as soon as possible, and in the printed edition at a later time.

Thank you for your fine contribution. On behalf of the Editors of Multilingua: Journal of Cross-Cultural and Interlanguage Communication we look forward to your continued contributions to the Journal.

Kind regards

Prof. Ingrid Piller

Dear Prof Ingrid Piller,

I have not heard any information from de Gruyter, but I received an email from no-reply@copyright.com with details like DOI and correct Manuscript ID, saying that the manuscript has been accepted for publication in Multilingua.

Is it common and not a scam? The email is sent by Welter De Gruyter GmbH.

Regards

Kamal

Oh no, not a scam – definitely from me 😊

Congratulations again, Kamal! Well done!

The process is now out of my hands and the production team should be in touch soon (they are a company in India and their email would be something that contains @tnq.co.in)

Would you like to write up a short general interest version for Language on the Move to promote the article when it comes out? Let me know and I can answer any questions you might have. General guidelines for guest-bloggers are at <https://www.languageonthemove.com/language-on-the-move/>

Best wishes,

Ingrid

Dear Prof Ingrid Piller,

Thank you. The email does not contain the suffix and it is from CCC in Denver USA and when I click the link that they provide, the URL is no longer valid. It is about Open Access Publication.

And I will respond to it as soon as possible.

I will write for the Language on the Move.

Thank you very much again for the assistance.

Regards

Kamal

oh, I see - see whether you can get open access for free as a researcher from a low/middle income country; if not, ignore - it's too expensive...

Hi Kamal,

I stepped down as editor of Multilingua last year so don't know. I can see that it's been published ahead of print – I suppose it will be in issue 2 or 3 this year but to confirm you'd need to contact the new editors, Eva Codo and Juergen Jaspers (Eva Codo eva.codo@uab.cat; JASPERS Jürgen Jurgen.Jaspers@ulb.be)

Hope things are going well for you!

With best wishes for the New Year,

Ingrid
