Dear Dr. Prasedyta,

Thank you for your email. We fully understand that due to the Christmas holiday period, it will be difficult to complete the revisions so quickly. However, in order to provide timely feedback to the reviewers and prevent papers on similar topics from being published online first, when are you able to resubmit the revised version of the manuscript? Would it be enough time by the end of this week? If the paper is accepted after it has been reviewed and evaluated by the academic editors, it will be published promptly, therefore, it can be indexed earlier.

We look forward to hearing from you soon.

Merry Christmas, and all the best in the New Year.

Greetings,

Thank you for the email
Unfortunately we could not finish this week
Due to the comments from reviewer 2
We are required to conduct some additional experiments

Hence
Probably we could finish in around early January 2022
