Reviewer #1: I congratulate the authors for the present case report. It should be accepted as it stands.

Reviewer #2: Thank you for inviting me to review this manuscript. Overall, the manuscript is interesting and would make a good ground for new hypothesis and further studies. However, some revision is required as stated below:

- The type of the study is not clear. In the Title it is "case report" although "case series" would be more accurate description. The confusion is under "Case Presentation" as the authors describe "Two groups which contains two patients each were used for this investigation", which should have 4 patients.
- The characteristics of the patients are not stated (past medical history, smoking, drug history etc of what could affect union)
- The references list is long; some references are cited only once. Can the list be shortened? Also, the references list is not in the same order as the references are cited in the manuscript.
